

Table Wine: Uncork some magic this holiday season

Looking to kick things up a notch this Thanksgiving? Consider splurging on a little special something that guests are always thankful for as the holiday season arrives in good wine.

Here are some sensational bottles, even some large-format offerings for big families, worthy of uncorking on the big day.

Belle Glos Taylor Lane Vineyard Pinot Noir 2011

Only sold in magnum format to ensure even aging, this wine is richly textured with blackberry-raspberry fruits and balanced with nicely polished tannins. After 10 years of aging, it is ready to take the spotlight this holiday season. $250
